New Effort in Assembly To Solve Tax Problem

Little Hope for Quick End of Long Stalemate Over Governor Fine's Proposed Levy Plan

Harrisburg, July 30—(P)—Long divided Republican senators took up the general assembly's tax problem anew today—prepared for a long summer session to settle it.

The GOP senators conceded that nothing new developed to end the months long stalemate as they returned to start the eighth month of the 1951 session after a week's recess for the July 24 primary election. "We're ready to stay here for quite some time," commented Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), chairman of the GOP senate caucus, as the senators opened an unusual closed policy-making meeting.

Britain to Send Mission to Discuss Iranian Oil Crisis

London, July 30—(P)—Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison announced today Britain will send a cabinet mission to Tehran to discuss an oil settlement with Iran.

He told the House of Commons the mission will be led by Richard Stokes, lord privy seal, and added: "It is not expedient for me at this moment to say anything further in this matter."

Morrison explained the decision came about as a result of consultations with Averell Harriman, President Truman's envoy now in London.

Morrison said there are still some points to be cleared up before the mission can leave for the Iranian capital.

A United States embassy spokesman announced Harriman intends flying back to Tehran by tonight.

Morrison said the British government and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company (AIOC) "have been ready at every stage to meet the legitimate aspirations of the Persian (Iranian) people."

Dispatch of a mission headed by a cabinet minister reportedly was agreed to by Iran as a basis for reopening discussions over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's $1,400,000,000 properties.

Heretofore the Iranians have held they would deal only with oil company officials and not the British government.

A spirit of optimism prevailed both here and in Tehran that Harriman had brought about an atmosphere in which the explosive middle eastern oil crisis could be solved.

LIFTS SUSPENSION

Washington, July 30—(P)—Minor League baseball Chief George M. Trautman today lifted the 90-day suspension of Dixie Walker, manager of the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Baseball Association.

Walker was suspended June 29 after an argument over a home plate decision at Mobile, Ala. Trautman reversed the original sentence, which also included a $100 fine.

Both Duff and Fine Deny Reports of Rift as Reported in a Magazine Story

Harrisburg, July 30—(P)—Gov. John S. Fine and U. S. Sen. James H. Duff flatly denied today reports of a break between them.

Reports of a rift were published by Time Magazine which said Fine has swung over to a faction of the Republican party headed by former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy.

Duff and Fine headed a GOP ticket which defeated the Grundy organization in the bitter 1950 GOP primary election.

"My relations with Senator Duff have been and are now amiable," Fine told newsmen over the weekend.

Duff, equally emphatic, said: "I have not in the slightest woken with Governor Fine."

The magazine report said Fine met "secretly" during the 1950 primary campaign with G. Mason Jiwett, Republican national committeeman and top Grundy aide. O'Leet, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association, a supporting the governor's disputed state income tax bill, now deadlocked in the senate.

Fine sharply denied he met with Jiwett or any other top Grundy leaders.

The Time Magazine story said the Duff-Fine situation might influence the position of the Pennsylvania 67-member delegation to a presidential candidate at the 1952 convention. The magazine said that Duff is counting on controlling the delegation in his role as "eastern manager of the Eisenhower-for-president forces" while the Grundy group leans toward Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Instructor Swims Channel Hard Way

Dover, Eng., July 30—(P)—A 54-year-old Scotsman today is the fourth man in history to swim the English channel in both directions.

Ned Barnie, an Edinburgh science teacher, made it the hard way yesterday by swimming from England to France. Tides and prevailing winds make this more difficult than the France-to-England swim which Barnie accomplished last year. The distance is approximately 21 miles and yesterday took Barnie 19 hours and two minutes.

Enemy Build-Up Is Increasing Danger Of an All-out War

Washington, July 30—(P)—Secretary of Defense Marshall has warned congress that "the enemy's build-up" is increasing the danger of all-out war.

Marshall left no doubt he was referring to Russia as the enemy and to reported Communist build-up of troops and supplies in Korea and elsewhere.

The defense secretary testified before a closed meeting of the house appropriations committee which released part of the testimony today, but deleted other portions for security reasons. The committee is considering the administration's $60,000,000,000 military budget proposal for the year which started July 1, 1951.

President Truman, in a speech in Detroit last Saturday, warned of Communist build-ups for war "around the world." The president said the free nations must have men and munitions on "hand-ready for any emergency."

Marshall testified last Friday before the senate appropriations committee that the U. S. will have about 400,000 troops in Europe next year. This was about twice the number of previous estimates, some by Marshall himself.

The defense secretary's new estimate drew a barrage of questions on capitol hill and elsewhere.

But Marshall stuck to the 400,000 figure. He wrote Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the house foreign affairs committee last Saturday, noting that his estimate had been questioned and saying that the 400,000 is correct—340,000 ground forces and 60,000 air force personnel.

Marshall explained in his letter the figure includes supply and supporting troops as well as combat units.

CITY DETECTIVE DIES IN PITTSBURGH CRASH

Greensburg, July 30—(P)—The crash of an auto against a bridge abutment killed a Pittsburgh City detective and his friend last night. A third man was slightly injured.

Detective Patrick J. Rodgers, 50, and W. H. Sutch, 48, also of Pittsburgh, died of skull fractures and other injuries. Their companion, Dennis O'Connor, age unavailable, was treated at the Westmoreland hospital and released. Coroner Joseph R. Check said their car crashed on a curve on the Harrison City-Export road while the men were returning from jockey races at nearby Claridge.

SHORT CASUALTY LIST

Washington, July 30—(P)—The Defense Department today identified six U. S. casualties in one of the shortest lists of the Korean campaign. List No. 385 reported one killed and five missing in action.

FINAL ACTION ON CONTROLS MEASURE DUE

Washington, July 30—(P)—Final congressional approval of the compromise economic controls bill appeared certain today. And President Truman was expected to sign it even if he doesn't like it.

If it isn't signed into law by tomorrow midnight all existing government controls over such things as wages, prices, and rents will end.

House leaders expected no difficulty in clearing the measure, passed last Friday by the senate, in time for the president to give it brief study before the present law expires.

Congressional leaders talked over the bill with President Truman at their regular Monday morning conference. They told reporters afterward that Mr. Truman did not say what he would do.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) said his own opinion is that it is a "workable bill" and "a better one than I thought we would get."

Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) said he agreed. Legislators who had major parts in working out the bill said they felt certain Mr. Truman would sign it.

Lack of time, if nothing else, makes a veto practically out of the question, they said.

However, administration leaders wouldn't be surprised if the president coupled with his approval a sharp rebuke to congress for having refused to give him the broad powers he requested—powers which many Republicans claimed would lead to Socialism.

Particularly disappointing to the president, they said privately, was refusal of congress to permit more effective price rollbacks and to allow the imposition of live-stock slaughtering quotas while at the same time allowing rent increases and relaxing curbs on consumer credit.

Defense Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson told a Detroit audience last Saturday that, "the biggest headache of all—and one for which there is no sure cure—is the danger of runaway inflation."

Rep. Keating of New York, a Republican, announced he plans to introduce a separate bill today to give the administration the power to set slaughtering quotas. Both houses specifically refused to do this in the controls act.

CANCER CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN PROFESSOR

Baltimore, July 30—(P)—Miss Dorothy A. Shields, 45, professor of political science at Goucher College, died of cancer early today at Maryland General Hospital. She had been ill since last April.

Miss Shields, a native of Oil City, Pa., graduated from Goucher in 1931, received a Ph. D. from the University of Pittsburgh, and taught at the Pennsylvania College for Women and at Pitt before returning to Goucher in 1943. She was named full professor at Goucher last Spring, a few weeks before she became ill. Funeral plans have not been announced. Burial will be at Corry, Pa.

CHECKUP FOR MARGIOTTI

Pittsburgh, July 30—(P)—Former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti entered St. Francis Hospital today for a physical checkup. Margiotti, who suffered a heart attack in 1949, expects to be released Wednesday or Thursday.

"IT WAS SAD . . ."—Borrowing an old ballad of the sea, three crew members of the good (but capsized) ship "Lethargia" cheer themselves with a tune picked on a water-soaked guitar. "It was sad when the great ship went down . . ." sing Gerry Garcia, Milt Borden and Skipper Mary Ellen McGrady, as the crew takes a break from recovering their gear under the raft at Moundsville, W. Va. Despite their bad luck, the young sailors are determined to continue their 1900-mile river cruise to New Orleans, a trip planned as an experiment in human relations.

Moundsville, Va., July 30—(P)—The two girls and a pair of bachelor companions who intend to float their raft all the way to New Orleans may get underway again today. The raft Lethargia was rightside up and the four mariners hoped to get it seaworthy again, despite a banged up superstructure. Their 12 by 20 foot craft was swamped and tipped over last Thursday while being towed down the Ohio river. The four escaped with their lives but lost a mascot dog.

Congress Starts Work on Stop-Gap Bill To Keep the Government in Business

Washington, July 30—(P)—Congress began today work on another stop-gap bill to keep the government in business after tomorrow midnight.

The house appropriations committee met in special session to draft a measure designed to finance every federal agency for 60 more days starting Aug. 1. The agencies have been operating this month on an emergency basis outlined by congress when the new fiscal year started July 1 without a single appropriation bill on the president's desk.

The proposed length of the new stop-gap measure, 60 days, was an indication that congressional leaders are not too optimistic over an early break in the congressional deadlock on money bills.

The measure was drafted for house passage just as soon as the appropriations committee sends it to the floor. It would then go to the senate.

The new measure would provide authority for the government to spend during the next two months at a rate based generally on the lowest amounts voted by either the senate or the house in bills passed but still hung up on capitol hill. The earlier stop-gap plan made the same allowance. The amounts spent will be charged (Turn to Page Seven)

SEEKS PRESIDENCY

Dallas, July 30—(P)—W. Lee O'Daniel, the one-time four salesman who became governor of Texas and a United States senator, told radio listeners last night he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president of the United States. "Only God can save this nation," O'Daniel said, "I'm willing to help Him."

Old Home Week Sponsored by Clarendon Fire Department Opens Tuesday Evening

The Clarendon "Old Home Week", sponsored by the Clarendon Fire Department, will get underway Tuesday of this week and continue until August 4th.

The contest is now underway for the selection of the queen who will reign over the celebration. The coronation will take place Thursday evening at 7:30 at the carnival grounds. The newly organized Fire Department Band will give a pop concert at the same time.

The queen contest is open to residents of Clarendon and Meade Townships between the ages of 16 and 22. Attractive prizes will be awarded to the queen and the four members of her court.

The celebration will open on Tuesday evening at the carnival grounds. Wednesday night will be turned over to the fire department auxiliary with a concert by the Accordion band and other entertainment. Friday will feature a Kiddies parade sponsored by the Clarendon Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 314. A mammoth parade will conclude the celebration on Saturday evening. Many old-timers, who have been away from Clarendon for a long time, are expected to attend the celebration.

No Progress Toward Ending Shooting in Korea Is Made By Negotiators at Kaesong

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, July 30—(P)—Allied and Red negotiators bargained more than three hours in sultry Kaesong today, but made no progress toward ending the shooting in Korea.

Instead, they agreed that the war would continue while they talk. As they reached this understanding Allied warplanes smashed at the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang in one of the most determined air assaults of the war.

The negotiators remained deadlocked on the problem of a buffer zone to separate the opposing armies if and when a cease-fire agreement is reached.

A U. N. spokesman said: "The final solution is hoped for. That doesn't necessarily mean it is in the immediate offing."

Their 15th session opens tomorrow at 11 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday, (EST)).

The United Nations communique said Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, "stated it was also his definite understanding that hostilities would continue during the current armistice sessions."

Nam was replying to an earlier "clarifying" statement by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. delegate.

It was the first official hint of any prior misunderstanding on this point.

In today's session, an eye-witness said, Joy used a slightly different approach "to penetrate what might be a language barrier. It might have some clarifying effects."

Joy gave a detailed analysis of the Allied and Communist proposals for a military dividing line across Korea.

The Reds want a zone 12½ miles along the 38th parallel, pre-war political boundary between North and South Korea.

The Reds want a zone 12½ miles along the present battle lines. Most of these lines are inside Red Korea, on the average about 20 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Joy asked the Reds for comment on the U. N. proposals "so that the final solution to this item may reflect our mutual views."

The Red supply took one hour and one minute, and left the situation just where it was before. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. briefing officer who attends the session, said Nam merely repeated what he has said before, the same words, but in different order.

Today's session lasted three hours and eight minutes, longest uninterrupted meeting since the talks began.

It was a humid day in Kaesong. Clouds covered the sun, and there was little light in the conference room.

Before today's session started, Nuckols made it clear to newsmen that the U. N. considers the 38th parallel "a political boundary" and not suitable for a military dividing line.

Communist radio stations in Peiping and Pyongyang warned indirectly that the Allied stand might force a breakdown in cease-fire talks.

Pyongyang, the trumpet of Red Korean propaganda, said "The Kaesong negotiations are dealing with the possibility of a cease-fire, but this does not necessarily mean that the negotiations will eventually end in success."

Peiping, more restrained, put it this way: "It depends on the sincerity of the Americans whether (Turn to Page Seven)

Texas Housewives Stand Firm in Their Refusal to Withhold Security Taxes

Marshall, Tex., July 30—(P)—Housewives and tax authorities are standing firm in their battle over a refusal to collect social security taxes from servants.

Notice of U. S. warrants for seizure of personal property was given a number of housewives Saturday. So far none of the housewives has acted to pay the first-quarter penalty for failure to collect the taxes.

Just how many housewives are involved Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas, collector of internal revenue for North Texas, won't say.

Originally 18 women sent a letter of protest to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder. Taxes on the 18 range from $1.98 to $14 with an average of $3 and penalties for non-payment of the first quarter average 12 cents apiece.

The housewives in their letter to Snyder contended the tax law is unconstitutional in attempting "to force either employees or employer to invest in insurance against their will."

John P. Armistead, treasury department employee at Longview, Texas, said the warrants were being held to give the women a last-minute chance to make the penalty payment.

Chicago, July 30—(P)—Golfers Lloyd Mangrum said today the same men who threatened him against winning the St. Paul Open yesterday, also ordered Sammy Sneed to win.

Mangrum, met by three police squads to escort him to a north side hotel this morning, said Sneed—who finished 11 strokes behind Mangrum's record-breaking 266—received a phone call about a half-hour before he got his menacing instructions to lose the tourney.

The Niles police department planned to guard both Sneed and Mangrum during the All-American tourney which starts Thursday at Tam O'Shanter course in Niles.

Boy Choir Will Be Guest at Indians Game in Cleveland

Members of the Warren Boy Choir will be guests of the management at the Saturday night ball game of the Cleveland Indians, when they go to Akron, O., to sing for the winner's banquet of the National Soap Box Derby next week.

The necessary passes for the ball game were received by the choir through the efforts of officials of Warren County Motors. Attired in special Soap Box Derby T-shirts provided by Dan's Chevrolet of Warren, the choir will leave by bus on August 11 and go directly to the Hotel Cleveland, where accommodations have been arranged by the Warren Chamber of Commerce. After the game, the boys will spend the night in Cleveland, and then embark for nearby Akron in time to complete all arrangements for their appearance Sunday evening at the huge annual banquet tendered national winners of the Soap Box Derby by Chevrolet Motors, sponsors of the famous coaster classic.

More than 1700 diners will be entertained by the youthful singing group whose fame is fast spreading across the nation, and the boys are looking forward to this expedition with as much enthusiasm as they had on their Philadelphia trip in June, to star on the Paul Whiteman TV show.

In addition to Director Byron Swanson and Accompanist Adelaide Swanson, the choir will be accompanied on the trip by John Powley who will again act as business manager, Ed Lowry, editor of the Times-Mirror, and by their photographer, Louis Lind.

Several groups of parents are planning to drive to Akron to witness the performance, which, because of its national interest, may be carried on radio and television networks.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By PAUL C. DITZEL
(For HAL BOYLE)

Chicago—Give me a smoky basement fire to tangle with and you can keep your baseball games and television.

I'll never hope for a fire, but when the engines dash by you can bet your boots I'll grab mine and take off for the blaze, pulling on my firecoat and hat.

I'm a fire buff. I like to go to fires and grab a hose line and follow firemen into a "ripe" working fire.

Any buff worth his boots will bolt from bed on a wintry morning to take in an extra alarm blaze.

Buff got their name from the horse-drawn steamer days when fire engine chasers nudged in buffalo robes at fires in sub-zero temperatures. We also are known as "fire fans," "sparks," and "red hots."

Many of us frustrated firemen have fire alarm registers on radios next to our beds. We keep our boots and coats nearby.

Like any buff whose eyes glisten as the sirens set up a crescendo of wails I take plenty of abuse from smoke and heckling friends.

Why do I chase fire engines? I don't know. Can you explain why you memorize batting averages?

Best raised a fire buff gives to the raised eyebrow is, "show me a guy who doesn't like to watch a fire or the drama of a 100-foot aerial ladder truck threading through traffic and I'll show you a bore."

On my days off I often head for a busy fire station where friendly firemen always welcome another hand.

Comes bedtime and you arrange your boots and trousers near your bed in the upstairs bunkroom. The clatter of the telephone key and dangle-ding of the register sounding alarms in other parts of the city lulls you into semi-sleep.

Then it hits.

The bunkroom lights snap on. The waker alarm bell orders you out of bed and into your boots.

Grab for the pole and slide down. Scurry into your coat and reach for the back rail of the rig.

Swing aboard as the 1,000 gallon pumper eases itself out of the station. You're on your way to another blaze.

Motorist With Axe Proves Man of the Hour in Emergency

Titusville Herald: The western part of Warren county got considerable rain and wind Friday afternoon.

A few rods east of the junction of Routes 27 and 77 east of Garland a large dead tree was blown across the highway. It did not hit any cars, but it completely blocked the highway.

In a very few minutes cars halted on either side of the obstruction, but because rain was falling motorists stayed in their cars.

When the rain ceased, men began assembling at the tree, but because of its size there was little they could do toward removing the obstruction.

Presently a motorist on the western side of the tree appeared carrying—of all things—an axe. He was truly the man of the hour.

It was a small axe, but very sharp, and the owner and another man began chopping.

In the crowd was a comparatively young man with a fine crop of whiskers, probably being raised in connection with a coming celebration somewhere.

Someone ventured this suggestion: "Why, here's Old Abe, the Rail Splitter. Give him a chance at the axe."

But by that time the two axemen had cut a path through one side of the highway, and Old Abe's services were not required.

One of the most earnest workers in the crowd said: "Well, I have carried snow shovels in my car in winter, but never an axe in summer."

A Titusville man bound for Youngsville continued on his way, having in mind telephoning about the tree from that town to State Police at Warren. When he went to a telephone there was a State Policeman, who got busy with his two-way radio and asked his substation to notify the Highway Department.

But before anyone could get to the tree from Warren, Highway Department workers nearer the scene got on the job and, with a lift from a heavy truck, soon had the way opened.

"Who was the man with the axe?" a reporter of The Herald asked the Titusville man referred to above.

"I don't know," he replied. "I didn't see him name."

The Girl Next Door

By Peggy Gaddis

Chapter 13

WHEN the screen door had banged shut behind Betsy, he said, "She's a wonderful little person, isn't she?"

"Betsy? Oh, Betsy's a swell kid—a little like an over-enthusiastic puppy that insists on climbing up your trousers, even if his paws are muddy!"

"But now that she's not a kid any more, now that she's quite grown up—"

"Oh, Betsy's not grown up. Far from it!" protested Peter. "Well, of course, I suppose she has grown up to a certain extent; but I'm afraid she'll always be an infant to me—the way she was when I saw her last."

"Yes, of course. That's inevitable."

For a moment the two men were silent.

The older man stirred and cleared his throat. He turned his sightless eyes upon Peter and asked curiously:

"What had you planned to come home to Peter, if things had gone differently?"

Peter's jaw hardened, and there was, for a moment, a taut, white line about his mouth.

"Oh, the usual thing, I suppose. A job I liked; perhaps a wife and children. What does any fellow my age plan?"

"What sort of job?" probed the professor, careful that there could be no hint of idle curiosity in his voice.

Peter gave a short, little laugh. "I was studying to be an architect. One of the few things no man denied his eyesight could ever hope to be."

"That's too bad. But at least you can fulfill the rest of your dream."

Peter's head jerked around. "You mean I can still hope to marry, have children? Good Lord, man, are you insane?" he snapped.

"Do you think I'd saddle any woman with the burden of a helpless husband?"

THERE was a taut silence. The older man searched his mind for something he could say that might help the boy beside him. He knew how desperately Peter needed the help he was too proud and too stubborn—and too young—to ask for. When he spoke at last, it was on a subject far removed from what they had been discussing.

"I suppose things were pretty bad out there in the Pacific," he said quietly.

"Well, it wasn't exactly a picnic," returned Peter.

"Yet when you come home, and the odds seem overwhelmingly against you," suggested the older man, but he did not finish the sentence.

"I'm afraid I don't quite get you, sir," Peter's voice was a little strained, as though with the effort to control his temper.

"I suppose I am—well, I suppose I sound offensive," Professor Hartley spoke with a disarming gentleness that robbed his words of any possible sting. "It's just that I've travelled a long, long way down the road you've just begun, my boy. It's probably presumptuous of me to offer you any counsel, yet I'd feel I had failed you—and Betsy, as well—if I didn't."

"What's Betsy got to do with my problems?" Peter cut in.

"Nothing, I suppose, except that she is very fond of you and deeply concerned about your happiness. Since it was through Betsy that I first knew anything about you, I suppose it's quite natural that I should associate you together. What I meant to say was that it's a long, dark, lonely road, my boy. Yet if you face it with courage and strength, it need not be lonely. Love is—well, love is like a light that can open up even the darkness in which you and I are destined to travel."

"No, thanks."

The older man sighed.

"The professor made a little gesture of futility. 'Forgive me, Peter,' he said. 'I know I've seemed presumptuous. Forgive an old man's concern.'"

"Sure. It's all right, sir, thanks," said Peter hurriedly, because he had heard the sound of Betsy's footsteps on the flagged path.

She was carrying a ladder tray. There were three tall glasses of iced tea, tangy with fresh mint, and a platter of little cakes. As she put the tray down on the table, she looked anxiously from one to the other, and said:

"All right, gentlemen, your favorite tupples! And some cakes I swiped from Esther this morning. Mother's having a bridge-fight this afternoon, and Esther made some grand-looking stuff. I thought we might as well have some of the party!"

With her coming, the tension left the two men. Betsy was gay and amusing, and they followed her every movement with sightless eyes. But when she saw a warm, friendly grin on Peter's face she had hard work not to burst into happy tears.

When at last they rose to go, and Betsy whistled to Gus, Peter said to their host, "Thanks for everything, sir, I'd like to come again, if I may."

"He's a darling," said Betsy simply. "I adore him," said Peter.

There were little flags of color in her cheeks, but she managed to say in a casual voice, "Sure. Love begets love. Didn't you know that? He'd have to love me, because I love him. It always works out like that—or didn't you know?"

"So?" he said. "You mean if you love someone very deeply, with all your heart, that someone will, given time, learn to love you?"

Betsy's eyes were shining. But above the tumult in her heart she said with forced gaiety:

"But of course. Any dope knows that."

Peter turned his head, as though looking down at her, and suddenly he grinned. "You're very convincing, pet," he told her. "But it seems to me I've heard differently."

Betsy laughed, shakily. "Oh, well, you believe what you believe, and I'll believe what I believe, and we can still be friends—being the broad-minded type!" she answered.

Peter laughed, and when Betsy let him out at his house a little later, she could tell by the way he smiled that he was happier than he had been when they set out. And that was a comfort and a blessing to warm her heart as she drove on home.

U. S. HITS BACK

The United States has decided to hit back against rigid Russian restrictions which virtually bar American diplomatic personnel in Moscow from driving a car.

The Russians not only have a stiff driving test. They demand that Americans be able to explain the theory of internal combustion engines, and know how to repair them. This kind of training is not usually standard equipment for diplomatic attaches.

We propose now to make Russian diplomatic staff people in Washington take the same tests required of other Washington residents. Heretofore, they've had it easy.

But is this enough? How about demanding that they all be graduates of automotive engineering schools? Or personal acquaintances of at least one car manufacturer?

That's a little more in the true Soviet vein.

SWEEPING BRIBE DISCLOSURES

It is shocking news that eight Bradley University basketball players have now been revealed as bribe-takers.

When the sweeping bribe disclosures involving a number of New York City college were made last winter, little Bradley, out in Peoria, Ill., in the heart of rural America, adopted an air of sanctity. The school decided not to play again in the "unsavory atmosphere" of Madison Square Garden.

But, tragically, it appears that vulnerability to bribe offers has no special geographic limits. Nor is it exclusively a characteristic found in "city slickers."

TV, THE MODERN MAGNET

The nation's household movers say the United States population is on the go as never in history. Movers' shipments are up from 17 to 50 per cent.

Americans always have been pretty mobile, especially in wartime. But how account for this spurt six years after a war?

The sober-sided haulers mutter something about de-centralization of industry.

Our private theory is that everybody is just trying to get within range of the nearest television transmitter.

The community of Hemlock had a delightful homecoming and reunion Saturday that was much enjoyed by many former residents and the present population. In the meantime Clarendon is launched on a similar enterprise that will provide much pleasure and entertainment for old and new residents. Down at Youngsville plans have about been consummated for entertainment of the 19th annual convention of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association to be held there next week. These affairs, along with the Scandia homecoming Labor Day, community fairs at Sugar Grove and Youngsville, sundry picnics and family gatherings, make it look like a pretty busy August for residents of the area.

The promise of favorable weather assures a capacity crowd for the concert and ice cream social to be held this evening on Beaty High School lawn by the Warren School Music Boosters. Considering the fact that the committee hopes to raise a substantial sum for the Band Uniform Fund the project is a most worthy one, deserving of the whole-hearted support of every citizen.

On his visit here Thursday evening with Congressman Leon H. Gavin, Harold Clark, Venango county Republican chairman told us that 80 per cent of the registered and qualified voters of Franklin went to the polls last Tuesday to set something of a record in voting there, far ahead of Oil City's 50 per cent and the 45 per cent of the remainder of the county, the big vote being credited to the referendum on beer and liquor. . . . WASHINGTON COLUMN *

Will a Strong Control Bill Become a Political Football?

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There is still one long chance to get a tougher price and wage control bill out of Congress. It is to work out a better bill in conference between Senate and House members, seeking to compromise differences in the two versions passed by the upper and lower chambers.

A lot here depends on the number of conferees. If five conferees are appointed from the Senate and House Banking and Currency committees, the outlook for revision is dim. If seven members are appointed from each committee, the outlook will be better for the Truman administration program.

The House conferees will deliver a Democratic working majority in either case.

It's the Senate where the trouble may arise. On a five-man Banking and Currency conference committee, the three top Democrats would be Chairman Maybank of South Carolina, Fulbright of Arkansas and Robertson of Virginia. Only Fulbright is reported to favor a strong control bill.

The two top Republicans are Caperhart of Indiana and Bricker of Ohio, both against controls. So the majority here would be four to one for weakened controls.

SENATOR FULBRIGHT may ask to be exempted from service. He has been ill, and doesn't wish to over-exert. If he steps aside, Senator Sparkman of Alabama, fourth ranking member on the Democratic side, would take his place. He is in favor of a strong controls measure, but substituting for Fulbright would not change the result on a five-man committee.

On a seven-man committee, Republican Senator Irving M. Ives of New York and Democrat J. Allen Frear of Delaware would be added to the group. Both would be expected to give support for a stronger controls bill. And if Senator Robertson should not serve, the next Democrat in line for the conferees committee would be Paul Douglas of Illinois, another strong controls supporter.

Assuming that a majority of the conferees will vote to curb price and wage controls—which now seems the likeliest bet—Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston has a tough job on his hands deciding what he's going to do next.

To avoid the evils of the black market, Mr. Johnston may be faced with the necessity of decontrolling meat altogether. This is just what the livestock raisers, feeders and the meat processing industry want. Stabilizers Johnston and Dillie are confident that this will mean higher meat prices, eventually. There might be a sudden rush of meat to market, which would bring prices down temporarily. But sooner or later the prices would go up again.

There is another hazard in this prospect of decontrolling meat prices. It is a political hazard. If Office of Price Stabilization takes the lid off meat prices, it will enable the Republican and Southern Democratic critics of the Truman administration to say, in effect, "See! They didn't want controls in the first place."

The alternative which Mr. Johnston might have to this program would be an attempt to ration meat. All plans have been made to ration scarce commodities in case of an emergency. But an effort to bring down prices by equalizing distribution.

This is both economically and politically dangerous. It would lead to a different kind of black market. It would be an under-the-counter deal, in which best cuts would go to favored customers willing and able to pay premium prices. And it would bring storms of protest over the inconveniences of it, to butchers and housewives alike.

OUR AMERICAN PATENT SYSTEM HAS INSPIRED AND PROTECTED INVENTORS FOR 160 YEARS.

PRESIDENT GEORGE WASHINGTON SIGNED THE BILL CREATING OUR PATENT SYSTEM IN 1790. BUT IT WASN'T UNTIL 1836 THAT THE NUMBERING SYSTEM WAS STARTED.

IT COULD HAVE HAPPENED ONLY IN AMERICA!

SINCE 1836, PATENTS HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR—

2,484,004 INVENTIONS

THESE INVENTIONS WERE THE BASIS FOR—

HUNDREDS OF INDUSTRIES!

THOUSANDS OF BUSINESSES!

MILLIONS OF JOBS!

HERE'S WHY—

AMERICANS, THE WORLD'S FIRST FREE PEOPLE, FORMED A BRAND NEW GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE—NOT PROVIDE FOR THEM AS A RESULT—

FREE PEOPLE WERE ENCOURAGED TO INVENT NEW PRODUCTS, NEW MACHINES—THE BASIS FOR NEW JOBS, NEW BUSINESSES AND NEW INDUSTRIES.

FREE PEOPLE WERE ENCOURAGED TO RISK MONEY IN THOSE INVENTIONS. THEY PROVIDED TOOLS & FACTORIES FOR NEW INDUSTRIES AND NEW JOBS.

FREE PEOPLE WERE ENCOURAGED TO COMPETE WITH EACH OTHER BY IMPROVING ON OTHER MEN'S INVENTIONS OR INVENTING NEW PRODUCTS.

FREE PEOPLE WERE ENCOURAGED TO WORK AND EARN FOR THEMSELVES—AT ANY JOB THEY CHOSE. THEY WERE ALSO FREE TO CHANGE JOBS AT WILL NEITHER COMMUNISM, FASCISM, SOCIALISM, NOR ANY OTHER GOVERNMENT-CONTROLLED "ISM" HAS GIVEN PEOPLE AS MUCH AS FREE AMERICANS HAVE EARNED FOR THEMSELVES!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

UNDER OUR PATENT LAWS, INVENTORS' SECRET DISCOVERIES ARE NOT MADE PUBLIC UNTIL AFTER A PATENT HAS BEEN ISSUED AND THE PATENT GIVES THE INVENTOR THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO THE USE OF HIS INVENTION FOR 17 YEARS.

THE PROTECTION AND POSSIBILITY OF PROFIT, WHICH A PATENT PROVIDES ENCOURAGES INVENTORS TO DEVELOP THEIR IDEAS. THIS IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT REASONS FOR THE EXTREMELY RAPID PROGRESS OUR COUNTRY HAS MADE.

GUARD YOUR FREEDOM.
JUDGE ALL LAWS OR ACTIONS
BY ASKING THIS QUESTION:

Does this law or action protect the right of EVERY man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—

Catherine Barbara Salapek Is Bride Of Paul Eugene Freeborough July 28

A lovely mid-summer wedding took place in St. Luke's Catholic church in Irvine Saturday, July 28, when Catherine Barbara Salapek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Salapek, Warren R. D. 3, became the bride of Paul Eugene Freeborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Freeborough, 10 Fourth street, Youngsville.

Father Edward Jacobs performed the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock before an altar banked with dahlias in mixed colors. Traditional wedding music was played by Val-da Papalia, of Youngsville, and Norma and Jack Haight, of Youngsville, sang "Ave Maria," "Mother Dear, O Pray For Me," "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and "How Pure, How White, How Fair."

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of silk duchesse lace, styled with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves edged with ruffles and a voluminous skirt. Her fingertip nylon veil fell from a sweetheart cap edged in lace, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a purple orchid and white streamers. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

Frances Jane Salapek, as maid of honor for her sister, wore a ballerina length gown of white marquisette, styled with peler pan collar, cap sleeves and a hoop skirt. She wore nylon gloves, a small lace picture hat and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Groomsmen were Norris Freeborough, best man for his brother, Steve Salapek, brother of the bride, from Russell, and Alfred Gates, brother-in-law of the bride, from Corry, ushers.

Sheffield, July 30 — Wedding vows of Teresa Fitzgerald and Ralph Santo were solemnized in a double ring ceremony in St. Anthony's Catholic church at 9:00 a. m. Saturday, July 21, Father M. J. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fitzgerald, Royston, was gown in slipper satin and marquisette, with full skirt and court train, long sleeves tapering at the wrists, and a nylon yoke outlined with a deep lace ruffle on the satin bodice. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion cascaded from a bonnet trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms and her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses. Marilyn Joan Pasquino Becomes Bride Of Evert C. Nyberg in Saturday Rite Bouquets of white gladioli decorated the altar of Holy Redeemer church at 11 a. m., Saturday, July 28, for the marriage of Marilyn Joan Pasquino and Evert C. Nyberg. Father Michael E. Dailey performed the service and traditional music was provided by Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, organist and Mrs. Charles Armstrong, vocalist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Pasquino, 18 Jefferson avenue, wore white nylon, her full skirt having a chapel length train, and a white beaded bertha completing the off-the-shoulder neckline. She wore a fingertip illusion net veil of imported silk attached with orange blossoms to a Juliet cap, and a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet of white carnations with white satin streamers was centered with a white orchid.

Betty Ann Pasquino, as her sister's maid of honor, wore ice blue and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations to match her tiera. Barbara Arlene Champion, cousin of the bride and bridesmaid, wore mint green, with pale yellow carnations and matching tiera. The gowns, identical in style to the bridal gown, were of nylon tulle over taffeta.

Mr. Nyberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Nyberg, Irvine, had his brother, Henry W. Nyberg, as best man, while Ralph Pasquino, Jr., cousin of the bride, was the usher.

The mother of the bride wore navy floral chiffon and Mrs. Nyberg wore a rose colored gown each with white accessories and white carnation corsages. Gladioli were used in simple altar decorations for the ceremony and traditional wedding music was furnished by Kathleen Edinger, church organist, and Mary Scalise, vocalist.

The bride was attractively gowned in white, with sheer net inserts and sweetheart neckline in a fitted bodice of lace and full skirt of satin. Matching lace was used for her mitts and the seed pearl-trimmed bonnet which held her finger length veil. A white orchid topped her white prayer book.

The wedding dinner for the bride party and immediate families was held in the private dining room of the Blue and White Restaurant and a small reception followed in the bride's home.

The couple left later for a cottage honeymoon on Lake Erie, the bride traveling in a turquoise summer suit, gray accessories and orchid corsage. They will reside for the present at 207 Eddy street.

Try These Do's and Don'ts For Making Home Happier

WANT to make your home a happier place? If you do, these are pretty safe rules to follow:

Play down the bad news and play up the big. Give top billing to what's right and as minor billing as possible to what's wrong. Carry this through every phase of homemaking from the children to the house itself.

Try not to interrupt the member of the family, who for the moment, is doing what he wants to do. Most such interruptions are actually unnecessary. As one husband recently complained in a letter: "My wife seems to hate to have me relax. If I'm reading she keeps interrupting to ask questions or just to keep up a running fire of comments. If I'm all set for a nap, she decides the lawn has to be mowed right away."

DON'T TALK ABOUT WORK—DO IT

DON'T talk about how much work you have to do. Talking about it won't get it done—but it will get you down.

Don't think you can nag your husband or children into developing traits and habits you would like to see them have. You probably can't change your husband, no matter what you do. And the only way you can change your children is either making them want to do what you want them to, or penalizing them for not doing as they are told. That means tact and discipline, not nagging.

Take pride in your home and pride in the job of homemaking and don't be afraid to show it. The person who is proud of the job she is doing is bound to create a happier atmosphere around her than the woman who is full of doubts of her own ability and regards her job as beneath her.

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Motorist From Cleveland, O.

Emil G. Gogolin, 71, of 8028 Whitthorn avenue, Cleveland, O., died suddenly Saturday morning as he was being admitted to the Warren General Hospital for treatment for a heart attack after collapsing a few moments earlier at the Nichols Tazoo Super Service Station, 1313 Pennsylvania avenue east.

Mr. Gogolin had been on a pleasure trip through this section with a niece, Miss Hattie A. Schultz, same address, and two friends of the family, Adele Goede and Anne Paplick, both of Cleveland. They told hospital officials Mr. Gogolin was under treatment in Cleveland for the heart ailment, and had memorandums from the physician to be submitted in case of such emergency. They had stayed at a cabin at Custer City Friday night, and Mr. Gogolin did not complain of any particular distress on the trip to Warren. After breakfast at an east side place he visited a rest room at the service station and when he returned to the car complained of shortness of breath and collapsed. Clayton Rudiger, 120 Parker street, in the vicinity at the time, called a physician and ambulance, and in the meantime offered to drive the stricken man to the hospital, reaching there about 9:30, when the physician who was waiting for the party pronounced the stricken man dead.

Mr. Gogolin, a bird lover and member of such organizations as the Burroughs Nature club and the Cleveland Bird Club, was born in Germany March 14, 1880. He was a retired auto mechanic for the Sinclair Refining Co. The niece accompanying him is the only surviving relative.

Removal was made to the Gibson Funeral Home and later to the F. Z. Zehn Funeral Home in East Cleveland.

Speedway Drivers Ride to Death on Track in Indiana

The car crashed through a two-foot guard rail, turning as it plunged down a 25-foot embankment.

Within 15 minutes, Mackey zoomed toward the same curve. His car went into a sudden spin, smashed the guard rail and went down the embankment. Later, a track official said Mackey's racer left skid marks less than six inches from those made by Green's ill-fated car.

Another top driver, Walt Brown, 41, of Massapequa, N. Y., was killed yesterday at Williams Grove, Pa., half mile speedway when his car went out of control during a time trial. Clipping along at breakneck speed, Brown's car rose on a curve, spun and turned over, crushing him.

A spinning wheel spelled death for two spectators at a stock car race at Mt. Hawley speedway near Peoria Saturday night.

Threats of Strike in Motor Industry

Detroit, July 30.—Threats of strikes hung over sections of the motor car industry today. Ford and Chrysler are the affected concerns.

Employees at the Ford wheel plant in Monroe, Mich., decided yesterday to take a strike vote. A spokesman for Local 723 of the CIO United Auto Workers said the strike vote probably would be taken this week. They have agreed to return to work meanwhile.

Employees at the Chrysler Corp. Dodge main plant here are scheduled to take a formal strike vote Friday in a dispute over production standards. Production standards involve the rate at which work assigned to a man is performed.

Company officials said a long shutdown of the vital Monroe plant eventually would force the closing of Ford plants throughout the nation.

but none have gained strong support.

The governor, meanwhile, insisted the primary election last week did not reflect public sentiment for or against his proposed income tax. Sen. John M. Walker, the Republican floor leader, who broke with Fine on the tax question, won the GOP nomination for Allegheny county commissioner.

Top interest, aside from taxes, in the house this week centers around a senate-passed bill increasing truck weights in Pennsylvania from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds.

Stop-gap appropriation measures have become the rule rather than the exception in recent years but in most past years a majority of the departmental money bills have been cleared by the end of July.

THE MARKETS

New York, July 30.—After a fast opening, the stock market quieted down today in an irregular price groove. Changes ran from a little more than a dollar a share higher to less than a dollar lower among leaders. Weekend orders were moved out rapidly in large blocks, but after that rush trading simmered down to a moderate pace. Motors were backward. Studebaker reported six-month earnings equal to $3.23 a share as against $6.12 a year ago, although sales this year exceeded the first six months of last year. Cuts were narrow. Amerasia opened on a block of 1,200 shares up 7 at 132.

WELL-PLANNED HAND RUINED BY BAD LUCK

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

With the annual bridge championships just about to begin in Washington, D. C., my mind takes me back to the most dramatic hand of last year's tournament. The hand was dealt in the final round of the team championship and played an important part in my team's victory.

George Rapee played the South hand for trump in his own hand and then began the spades. When both opponents followed to the queen and ace of spades, Rapee drew the last trump with dummy's ace. He could then run the rest of the spades, for a total of 13 tricks.

In the other room Helen Sobel played the South hand for the

Clarendon Merchants Post 5-0 Shutout to Win 1st Half Crown

First-half championship of the Hot Stove Junior League was scooped up by the Clarendon Merchants Friday night, when they shut out Keystone Garage, 5-0, in a playoff at War Memorial Field.

The game was scheduled by league officials after both teams finished the first half with similar records of five wins and one loss.

Clarendon's scoring started in the last of the second when Morley tallied on a fielder's choice, but a home run by Shea in the third with two on gave them a three lead.

Neither team could do much in the fourth and fifth frames until the sixth, when it appeared the Merchants were on their way. Harrington led off with a hit and stole third. Pearson drew a walk to put two men on. But the threat ended there when Harrington was caught off third by the catcher and Pearson was nailed at second.

The Merchants scored their final run in the sixth after Bathurst got to third on two passed balls and came in when Haggerty made first on an error. Officials called the game at the end of the frame because of darkness.

THANKS, OLD TIMERS!

For the past nine years Warren County's Old Time Baseball Players have given unstintingly of their time and effort to the cause of this County's underprivileged children. Each year they interrupted their vacations, took time off from their labors to practice and play in the Kiwanis sponsored Baseball Classic, which brought in the funds so necessary to keep alive and healthy the Kiwanis Club's efforts on behalf of Crippled and Underprivileged children.

There comes a time, as it does to all of us, when it becomes necessary to let prudence dictate our actions. Many of the Old Timers are of the opinion that they can go on forever, however, common sense tells us that sooner or later some one of us will fall by the wayside or receive injuries serious enough to incapacitate us for months. Baseball is a young men's game and nine years beyond our baseball prime is a long time to tempt fate. It is therefore the decision of the Kiwanis Club membership that the Old Timers' game be discontinued. That such a decision was hard for them to make is obvious. Their appreciation of the work done by the Old Timers these past nine years on behalf of underprivileged children cannot be properly described by mere words. Needless to say, the Warren Kiwanis Club deeply appreciates the efforts put out by the Old Timers and it is with extreme regret that it has become prudent to discontinue this annual classic. To most of us this does not come as a surprise. In the past few years injuries have occurred. However, thanks to good luck, none of these were of a serious nature. All this does not mean that efforts on behalf of the Kiwanis Club Charity will be discontinued. This year's effort will be realized on September 8 when we will see a girls' softball team, ranking fourth in the nation, play another girls' club of the same calibre. More about that later.

Ludlow's 8-game Win Streak Broken by Jamestown Marlins

Ludlow Wildcats' eight-game win streak was snapped when the Cats were shut out, 2-0, by the powerful Jamestown Marlins-Rockwells at Wildcat Park Sunday afternoon.

Ringer, southpaw Jamestown hurler, limited the Wildcats to five hits, all singles. He struck out seven batters and allowed only two walks. Balya was on the mound for Ludlow. He was nipped for five hits, including a double by Strickland. He fanned four stickmen.

Jamestown scored its first run in the sixth when Housler opened with a single and crossed the plate on Strickland's double. Strickland scored the second tally in the top of the ninth on Wakefield's single.

Ludlow plays at home Thursday night against Mt. Jewett and again next Sunday afternoon against Benezette.

THE SCOREBOARD

Walcott Is First Senior Champ; Juniors Await Seniority Rights

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Just as they do in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the young bucks with heavyweight championship aspirations are going to have to wait their turn.

When Jersey Joe Walcott, admittedly 37, wound up his potent left and belted out Ezzard Charles and Father Time with one punch, he took the big crown into virtual deep freeze as far as the kiddie group is concerned.

If the Great Father of Camden never does another thing but ease Ezzard the Gizzard—and that was a tremendous favor—he will go down in history as the first senior champion of the prize ring.

Now if all the seniors get five shots at the top, you can readily see how hopeless is the quest of the Johnny-Come-Latelys—Matthews, Marciano, Murphy, the now slightly-tarnished Layne, Roland LaStarza and Pittsburgh's Bob Baker.

Walcott and Charles are scheduled to poke each other around for the fourth time, of course. Naturally, Walcott will demand a first-chance return clause in the new contract. It's the champion's privilege, and the venerable south New Jersey geezer is Mr. Big now. It's anything but inconceivable that Charles, who twice whipped Walcott, will win. Then they'd fight again, when it could be Old Joe's turn. These two could be at it for years.

And when they settle their good-business feud, there's still Joe Louis, at 37 the most celebrated Senior of them all.

THE ex-champ, who hadn't gained much prestige against the younger crop, really opened the International Boxing Club's eyes with a six-round knockout of stalwart Lee Savold. After all, Savold was a union man, too, at 28.

Louis went to bed disgraced after watching Walcott put a lily in Charles' hand on television.

"It puts Joe back at least six months in his plans to regain the title," said Manager Marshall Miles. What an optimist he is, but Louis is at least in the league. And what are six months or so in connection with the Senior Championship? Walcott has been around 21 years.

Walcott clipping Charles best illustrates why Louis insisted on tackling the Cincinnati Negro once more. And now the Old Brown Bomber is sidetracked for an old pappy guy he knocked kicking three years ago.

Getting back to the Juniors, none is likely to get a whack at the Senior champion for years to come, so they might just as well fight for their own championship.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

A streak of wildness led to a PONY League record in last night's Batavia-Wellsville game, but highlights were scarce in the day's other action with Jamestown the only club showing a profit.

Five pitchers gave up a total of 28 walks in the game at Wellsville as the Clippers jolted the Rockets, 16-7. The combined number of bases on balls broke the record of 27 set by Lockport at Hamilton on May 4 of last year.

Jamestown hurler Ed McNulty got his first win since May 20 as the leading Falcons swept a twin bill from Hamilton. McNulty, whose record stands at 7 and 5, pitched the Falcons to a 4-3 win in the first. Jamestown laid the power on in the second to thump the visitors, 13-2.

Olean and Corning split a twin bill with the Oilers taking the first, 10-5, but dropping the nightcap, 12-6, despite a two-run homer by Paul Owens in the sixth.

In last night's only other game, Bradford's Phillies picked up three scores on three home runs, but lost the decision to Hornell, 5-3. The Philly homers came off the bats of manager John Davenport, who hit two, and Third Baseman Paul Farrell.

Saturday's games saw Hamilton beat Wellsville twice, 9-0 and 8-4; Hornell slap Bradford, 10-3; and Jamestown down Batavia, 8-2. The Olean at Corning game was postponed and added to yesterday's schedule.

Quiet Weekend Is Reported At The Emergency Ward

A comparatively quiet week-end was experienced at Warren General Hospital emergency ward. Four emergency cases were treated, one being admitted for further observation.

On Saturday, Raymond Shield, Jr., age 6, of Russell, was admitted for observation following emergency treatment for head wounds sustained when he fell about 10 feet through a barn floor and struck his head on a pile of lumber. His condition is listed as good.

Also on Saturday, Elmer W. Nelson, of Sheffield, employed at the Newell Press, was treated for first degree burns of the right hand and arm. Mr. Nelson was engaged in cleaning a fountain with gasoline when the fumes ignited from a nearby gas flame and caused a flash explosion. He was discharged after dressings were applied.

Angelo Juliano, 316 Laurel street, employed at Sylvania, suffered a laceration of the right hand Saturday. He was discharged after application of two sutures.

Yesterday, Franklin Brown, 111 Center street, was treated for a dog bite on the right leg and discharged.

Kiwanis Club Will Be Represented At District Dinner

At the weekly meeting of the Warren Kiwanis Club Wednesday noon at the YWCA a report will be made regarding plans for the dinner Wednesday, August 8, at the Pine Grove Hotel, Grove City, honoring Lieut. Governor Sam Lucas. Following the dinner at 6:30 o'clock there will be golf at the Grove City Country Club, and during the afternoon Kiwanian ladies will be entertained at bridge. Several members of the local club have already made reservations and those in charge urge that those planning to attend secure tickets as early as possible by contacting Kermit Forsgren.

Attention of members is also called to the plans for the Western Pennsylvania Kiwanis Outing to be held at West View Park, Pittsburgh, Wednesday, August 15.

Frank Ledebur, chairman for the month of August, is completing plans for an interesting program Wednesday.

Warren County Chapter, of the Cancer Society Kept Busy the Year Around

While little is heard about the Warren County Chapter, American Cancer Society, in the interim between public campaigns for funds with which to carry on its work, those who are responsible for its activities are kept busy the year around.

One of its biggest projects, purchase of much-needed and very valuable technical equipment in the form of an auto-technician and a micro-projector for use in Warren General Hospital, was pictured recently in Times-Mirror columns, together with an explanatory text concerning its use by the medical and laboratory staff in study of cancer tissue.

Warren Y. M. C. A. Official Member Of State Board

Word was received this morning by Dan K. Walton, general secretary of the local YMCA of his appointment as a member of the Pennsylvania State YMCA advisory council to represent, with two other secretaries from this district, the North West District of the State on the Council. The other representatives from this district are Charles A. Gape, of Franklin, and W. S. Sellers, of Titusville.

The advisory council will meet at Chambersburg on September 2nd for an all-day session with the state officials. This meeting immediately precedes the annual State YMCA Conference which opens on Labor Day each year and meets in the attractive Penn Hall girls school buildings.

Mr. Walton is planning to attend both the session of the advisory council and the State Conference, which this year will emphasize the 100th anniversary of the YMCA in the U. S.

This financial outlay, totaling nearly $2,000, is only one phase of the chapter's work. A summary prepared for the Times-Mirror by the unit's treasurer, A. L. Rasmussen, shows that gifts totaling $3,296.06 were received in the 1930 funds campaign, with a balance of $3,567.15 remaining from the previous year to make a grand total of $6,863.23.

Disbursements for the year included $228 for administration; $2,393.53 for service, including the hospital equipment; loan closet, surgical dressings; $285.53 for educational purposes, including supplies, promotional projects, publicity; $709.87 for fund-raising, including stationery, printing, supplies, rental and service of equipment, purchase of exhibits, films and displays, and promotional projects. To these must be added such items as travel, rent and maintenance, light and heat, office supplies, meeting expenses, postage, shipping and mailing, for a total of $3,616.

The balance remaining in the treasury, $3,246.23, will be added to the funds received in the 1931
